Cancelled Strike Eases Tension In Schools

Acceptance—with reservations, on the part of the Jefferson County Classroom Teachers' Association of the County School Board's offer of a $60 per month raise has eased the tension in County educational circles this week. The Association has prevented a teachers' strike, which seemed imminent.

Salary increases of $60 per month, retroactive to January 1, were granted the 382 elementary and high school teachers by the Board meeting in special session last Saturday afternoon.

The Board has agreed to the need for a revised salary schedule for teachers but has expressed doubt as to whether it would be reached by May 1, as requested by the teachers.

Answer to the question as to whether they would authorize an additional $150 this year, if funds are available, has not been given by Board members.

At the meeting the Board also elected Dr. C. B. Shacklette to board membership. He replaces Mrs. W. E. Caldwell, whose term ended January 8.

Big Jobless Benefits; Plea For G. I. Jobs

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 10 (Special)—Jobless benefit claimants in the State collected $5,257,426 during the month of January, the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission reported today, and added that $4770,300 of this amount went to unemployed veterans.

Total payments were up $894,099 over the December figure of $4,363,327, and veterans collected in January $918,765 more than the $3,850,521 they received in December.

Farmer pointed out that more than 500 disabled veterans in Kentucky now are awaiting assignment to job-training facilities. Approximately 850 of Kentucky's disabled veterans now are enrolled in job-training courses.

Job-training opportunities for handicapped veterans are needed in cooperation and in building trades, and in air-conditioning and refrigeration industry.

Kentucky employers, who are willing to accept disabled veterans as trainees in their establishments, are urged to contact the nearest V.A. office.

Kendall New Chairman Good Government Body

Paul Kendall, Anchorage, was chosen as chairman of the Jefferson County Good Government Committee at a meeting held in Jeffersontown Tuesday evening. Kendall succeeds C. A. Hummel, resigned. Hummel, while remaining on the committee, told County Judge Barker, by whom he was appointed a year ago, that the press of other duties made it impossible for him to continue as chairman.

The retiring chairman was mentioned in an article in The Louisville Times Wednesday stating that Hummel gave up his resignation because "the gambling situation in the county requires more attention than I have time to give to it." The Times reported called the ex-chairman to verify the statement.

In The Courier-Journal, which was asked by Hummel, who told the Times that the gambling situation was only a contributing cause of his resigning, and that he, as a whole, required too much of his time.

Judge Barker put into the lap of the Good Government group the responsibility of compiling detailed facts relative to overcrowded conditions existing on promptly, Scoggin Jones was named to head a committee to collect data, which is expected to be given to the county officials in their efforts to solve the problem which is presented in the overcrowded houses.

He said that it no longer obtains that buses cannot be supplied to meet the traffic on the streets. The letter addressed to the outgoing chairman and the committee as a whole by H. I. Rosenberg was presented.

The letter referred to the gambling situation, which was described by Rosenberg as rampant. The anti-gambling crusader gave his version of the situation at length.

Although part of the charges were discredited by members of the committee, Hummel pointed out that they should be checked to either refute or verify them. Further complaints were brought before the board which claimed that in some instances P.T.A. committees had been denied admittance at sessions to meetings held by the County Board of Education, and that favoritism had been shown by the Board in dealing with contractors. A committee was named to obtain further information along that line.

The Rev. James H. Averitt of Baptist Methodist Church, Valley Station, cited complaints that County police have "cursed" motorists stopped on Dixie Highway for traffic violations.

Russ Beggar Worth Fortune

Had Saved 260,000 Rubles
MOSCOW—A 71-year-old Moscow street beggar—a former monk—was discovered to have amassed a personal fortune of 260,000 rubles. (The official ruble rate is 53 to the dollar, the diplomatic rate is 12 to the dollar.)

Press reports said Vasily Yefremovich Vasiliev, formerly a monk from a monastery on Lake Ladoga, had aroused suspicion by begging in the capitol's Yelokhov Square. Upon investigation, the reports continued, it was discovered that from 1920 until 1940 Vasiliev was a collective farmer and had a home garden in a village near Volodga but "was not satisfied with this" and came to Moscow to beg in 1940. The paper said he had saved the 260,000 rubles in the six years since and that the whole sum had been "discovered."

ZONING CHANGES STILL IN SUSPENSE

Although proposed zoning changes in St. Matthews have been deferred by the City-County Planning and Zoning Commission, they have not been dropped, Robert Russell, planning engineer, said yesterday.
The commission decided Tuesday to defer the proposed changes at the strenuous protest of St. Matthews residents, particularly as to the "commercial-encroachment" zoning changes in residential districts.

A meeting in the next few days will decide whether the commission will adopt the zoning program that has been under discussion or whether changes first will be made.
Meanwhile, the commission is carrying on with the zoning of the county areas as far out as Middletown with emphasis on added school and recreation facilities.

Bonds Over America

SPANISH TREASURY

Florida demonstrates the old maxim that good things are made slowly. Long before the Pilgrims landed in the North, Spanish and English explorers were battling to plant their colonies on the East Coast. Sebastian and John Cabot sailed along there in 1497 and in 1513 Ponce de Leon christened Florida. By 1647, St. Augustine had a population of 5,000. In 1688 Sir Francis Drake destroyed the town and looted its treasury. Spain rebuilt it the next year, but more substantially. Reconstruction must be done all over the world when the guns are silent. Buy more War Bonds to speed the day when the world can begin to rebuild.

Lovvorn Heights News

By Mrs. Oscar Kaufman.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bibbs had the misfortune last Tuesday morning to lose their brooder house by fire. Three hundred chicks were due to arrive about the time of the fire. If the wind had changed, all buildings may have been destroyed. Sorry indeed this had to happen to these fine folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stout called Monday night on Mr. and Mrs. Neal Kaufman, and Mrs. Neal Kaufman, Mr. Lee Sutherland and nephew, Earl, were visitors Sunday in the home of Mr. Neal Kaufman.

Mrs. Chester Farmer was overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hartin one night last week. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Kaufman and family called on Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Kaufman, Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Farmer, Bobby and Carol and Mr. Pete Kaufman were supper guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Gwyn Tyler of High View. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gray, Sis Gray and Mr. Keith Best.

Mrs. Oscar Kaufman was weekend guest of Mrs. Tresele Krebs at city; Saturday night they attended the Shiloh circus at the Armory.

Mr. Edward Gatton, who recently purchased some ground from his father on Cooper Chapel Road, is planning to build soon.

Mrs. George Guire and children, Curtis and Betty, spent Monday evening with Mrs. Oscar Kaufman.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ellingsworth and Mr. Vernon Kaufman called Sunday on their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kaufman.

Just heard that Mr. Vernon Smith is a little better. Mr. Henry Olges is ill. Mr. John Emily is confined to his bed and is not doing so well. The father of Mr. Van Fleet of Okolona, who fell sometime back and broke his hip is at St. Anthony's Hospital. I think he is doing as well as could be expected. Hoping all may soon be well and able to be about.

Mrs. Charles Schlachter of Beulah Church Road, who fractured a rib and broke her arm in a fall several weeks back, is able to drive her car.

YALE STAR TURNS PRO . . . Paul Walker, 21, Wheaton, Ill., ex-Yale athlete and all-American end of 1944, who has joined the New York Knickerbocker basketball team, demonstrates his great form in a leaping throw in his first workout with the team. Walker was a major letterman at Yale and also captained the university's basketball team through one of its most successful seasons.

An article in the Journal, describing the 25 year case history of a male patient with a malignant tumor, said that treatment with radioactive iodine X-rays "pointed to an arrest if not a regression of the disease."

The compound, produced in large quantities in nuclear chain reacting units, was given orally in the form of sodium iodide in water.

The study by three New York investigators concluded that radioactive iodine "seems to be an effective therapeutic agent in the control of this type of tumor." The report was made by S. M. Seidlin, D. D. Matfield and Eleanor Oshry of the medical division and department of medical physics of the Montefiore hospital and the physics department of Memorial hospital in New York.

CONGRATULATIONS, GRAND-DAD . . . Recently elected French president, Vincent Auriol received thousands of congratulations—the most proud of which were those of his grandsons, Jean Claude and Jean Paul Auriol. They show they are mighty proud of Granddad.

Robbery Victim Profits

From Attempted Holdup

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.—Mrs. Madeline Rathbone said police that two men attempted to rob her in her flower shop.

Her reply to the stickup order was: "If you need the money more than I and my four children, take it!"

Instead of taking her money, they gave her $5.

Act of Kindness to Stranger Rewarded

Mercy Hospital Receives Gift of $615,000 for Charity.

CHICAGO—Thirty-five years ago a penniless stranger made his way to a hospital and asked to see the mother nurse.

"Sister, I am sick," he said. "I need medical care that may require weeks or months. I have no money. I am not even a Catholic."

The Sisters of Mercy took the stranger in just as they were about to begin their day's work before him. He received the best care the hospital could give and several weeks later went on his way in good health. The sisters marked it down as a charity case.

They had forgotten all about the incident when, nearly a year later, a check for $250,000 arrived from Paris, France. The check was signed by Ferns Thompson, a native New Yorker living in Paris with his wife.

Thompson wrote that the man the sisters had treated was his friend. He added that he never had heard of the Sisters of Mercy and was not a Catholic, but that he wanted them to use the money to treat others in need.

Thereafter the sisters received each year a check for $5,000—$165,000 in all. Thompson died in 1913, but the checks continued to arrive, signed by his widow, the former Countess de Beau Repaire.

In 1930 the Sisters of Mercy erected a nurses' home near the hospital and named it Ferns Thompson hall, in memory of their benefactor.

One day recently Sister Mary Theresa, administrator and superintendent of Mercy hospital, received a letter from a New York law firm informing her that Mrs. Thompson died last August 30. The estate had been probated, the lawyers wrote, and they were awaiting word as to where to deposit the $250,000 Mrs. Thompson had left the Sisters of Mercy in her will.

The money brought to $615,000 the return from one humane deed, and Sister Mary Theresa said the final bequest would be regarded as an anniversary gift, commemorating the 100 years since six nuns arrived here from Pittsburgh to begin their long and extensive service to the community.

Radioactive Iodine Helps

Thieves Hidden in London Fog Steal $32,000

Carry Ladder to Home of a Society Woman and Nab Rare Jewelry.

LONDON—London was covered by such a dense fog recently that burglars were able in broad daylight to lug a ladder to a society woman's home, climb up to her second-floor window and make off with $32,000 worth of diamond and sapphire jewelry.

The ladder was not noticed and the burglary was not discovered until Mrs. Irene Robinson, who was married in London, was found to have had occasion to look into her jewelry casket. She offered a $5,000 reward for information leading to the recovery of her jewelry.

The burglary broke a brief run in an epidemic of "society page" jewel thefts. They began last October when, $100,000 worth of jewels were stolen from the duchess of Windsor.

Queen is Marooned.

Vulnerability was about three feet in the fog, one of record heaviness in a city renowned for its fogs. Thousands of persons became lost, including Queen Elizabeth, who was marooned in her automobile 100 yards from Buckingham palace and had to be rescued by a police marching squad.

The fog was accompanied by a sharp drop in temperature, freezing a thin layer of ice on streets and sidewalks.

Ferry service had to be suspended between Portsmouth, Southampton and the Isle of Wight. Buses crawled along in snail's pace, and the schedule. Firemen had to walk ahead of their trucks to fires, and when they got to them the fog hampered their work.

All four main railroads reported delays. Even subway service was slowed because thousands of people who normally ride buses were using the trains.

At Southampton, where the fog was as thick as it was in London, British States Line ship America had to postpone its departure for Le Havre.

Lines planes that had no choice but to land in the fog were talked to by police cars with loud-speakers were parked at strategic points, warning motorists to be careful and giving groping pedestrians a "fix." One motorist said it took him two hours and 35 minutes to drive two miles.

Subway stopped running at midnight, and many had to spend the night where they were if they did not reach the stations by that time. At Wembley skating rink more than 2,000 persons slept and skated all night because they couldn't get home.

When fire broke out in a London crematorium, firemen had to walk ahead of their trucks with lights. When they arrived at the fire, they lit red section flares so they could see what they were doing.

A chapel at Putney Vale cemetery caught fire. The fire was so well advanced by the time the firemen had groped their way to it, there was little they could do.

Indist Parents in Death of Son; Refused to Call Help

EASTON, PA. — William Peht, 55, and his 46-year-old wife, Ada, were under indictment on involuntary manslaughter charges in the death of their 2-year-old son.

The Northampton county grand jury ordered the two held for trial on the charge after Col. D. F. Bachman testified the couple refused to call a doctor for their son, Edwin James, who fell into a can of boiling water last September.

Dr. Bachman told the jury the boy would have had a 50-50 chance of recovering if he had been given prompt medical aid. The Pehts, he said, belong to a sect which opposes medical attention.

Man With Toy Pistol Routed

In Post Office Holdup Try

BALTIMORE, MD. — Campbell Farrow, money order clerk, routed a man who attempted to hold up a suburban branch post office with a toy pistol.

Police said they arrested a man with a toy gun about a block away a few minutes later.

Farrow related that a man walked up to his window, pulled a red crayon note which read: "Turn over all the money in the drawer and keep quiet."

Farrow dropped to the floor of his cage, grabbed a gun which he had hidden, and aimed it at other clerks: "Look out . . . a holdup," The man fled.

The craft, arriving at New Orleans from Baltimore, Canal Zone, came to Mobile on three engines after damaging its left outboard engine at New Orleans where bad weather prevented a landing.

Two robbers make off with $250, $100, $50,000 Parcel

CHICAGO—A $500 robbery went off without a hitch but the robbers passed up $50,000.

Two men entered a branch office of the American Express company and forced the manager, James Murtin, to open the cash register.

They tied both with clothes line and cleaned out the cash register. But they were hours searching their victims. Murtin had been delivering a supply of travelers' checks to the store where they had $50,000 worth in his pocket.

St. Matthews Waits Court's Decision

If the Court of Appeals reverses Judge Scott Miller's decision that a section of the 1946 law under which incorporation of St. Matthews is sought, is unconstitutional, the community could become an incorporated city within two or three months, authorities said today.

The Court is to decide, probably within the next 30 to 60 days, on the constitutionality of a section of the law which Judge Miller says could let 500 people force incorporation on a majority. Pro-incorporationists contend that they merely were complying with the law (which requires petitioning by 500 persons for establishing an incorporated city) when they turned in a petition bearing 1,004 signatures. "These were obtained with no effort in only two days. We could easily have secured many, many more," one spokesman said.

"Should Miller's decision be upheld, the fight for incorporation probably will be delayed pending passage of another law regarding incorporation of communities," Franklin P. Hays, attorney for the group seeking incorporation, said today. Hays feels the law used in incorporating a community prior to 1946 was repealed with passage of the new law.

A group, headed by Bud Andriat, which prefers annexation by Louisville rather than incorporation, says that many of the 1,004 signers of the petition asking incorporation were not St. Matthews residents and that they drew their names and the group seeking incorporation, counters that many want to add their names to the petition.

Recreation Guide
Describes Program

On February 10, Jefferson County received gifts in the form of a 115-page book describing in detail the program of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board for all seasons of the year.

The book is now in manuscript form, but a copy has been sent to Houghton-Mifflin Publishing Company, Boston, for approval and the prospects are that in the near future Jefferson County's book may be placed before the nation in printed form with all of the pictures of county recreation in action.

Jefferson County has eagerly been awaiting completion of the book which was started August 1, 1946.

Eleven chapters comprise the "Guide," with each being dedicated to various individuals or groups.

duties in the kitchen, she slipped on the linoleum and fell, breaking her leg and several ribs.

Medical aid was summoned and she was taken to a Louisville infirmary. At last report she was doing as well as could be expected.

Mrs. Buechel is a person of a cheerful disposition and it is hoped she may soon be her milking, happy self again.

Child Injured At School
Little Mary Kaiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kaiser, while skating at school during recess, fell and broke her leg, we are sorry to say. She is a pupil at Newburg School and a bright youngster.

After having the bone set at a Louisville infirmary, she was brought to the home of her parents.

Miss Bryan Passes
Miss Daisy D. Bryan, aged 73 years, a former teacher at the old Kennedy School on Taylorsville Road, passed away last week and was buried Sunday afternoon at her early home in Worthington.

She was an instructor of sterling worth and was loved by her pupils and patrons as well.

Surviving her are several nieces and nephews.

The writer succeeded Miss Bryan, as principal of Kennedy School, upon her resignation to take up work in Louisville and found her pupils under splendid discipline and high scholastic standing. Pleasant memories shall always remain of three years spent in the work there.

Mrs. Fred Kraft entertained with a party for a crowd of lady friends at her home (Thursday) afternoon. A delightful time was spent by all present. Did not get all the names.

William Norris, of Crescent Hill, were guests at dinner on Wednesday, February 12, of Mr. and Mrs. Falden Frederick.

Mrs. William Fegenbush is visiting her daughter, Mrs. George Kimbler, and Mr. Kimbler and son for a few weeks.

The home of Mr. Monahan, the grocer on Ethel Avenue, caught fire one day last week and with hard work by the Buechel Fire Department, the blaze was extinguished before great damage was done. Smoke was first discovered in a closet on the ground floor.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pendergraft spent several days last week in New York City.

Congratulations to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. William Schneider, who were married in wedlock Saturday evening, February 8, in St. Matthews. They are a splendid young couple and may they enjoy many long years of happiness together.

There is word about that side-rail future through the center of Buechel, along Bardstown Road. This will be a great convenience and a help in general. Street lights have been turned on for several squares along the busy section, where the residents are very appreciative.

King's Church News

By Mrs. Lowell Owen

There were 51 who braved the cold to come out Sunday evening to B.T.U.

The King's W.M.S. will meet Wednesday, February 19, at the home of Mrs. Robert Smith. All are welcome.

There is choir practice at King's every Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. Young men and women are invited to come and join in singing. Our choir is filled every Sunday evening now with our young people.

This may be surprising to some of our folks, but the young people are out to raise enough money to build a raised choir at King's. They hope to have the money in two months. So whenever any of the young folks come to you asking for money for this cause, be as liberal as possible, if you hope to see this at old King's. The measurements of the church have been sent to a man in Tennessee to design where and how the choir is to be built. We are also hoping that this man can also tell us how to remove the centerposts in the church and still keep it strong. I am sure this has been long desired to be seen by every one, but we are not sure as yet how it can be removed. We are just hoping they can.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Owen had as dinner guests Sunday, February 2, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitehouse, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whitehouse and daughters, Maryann and Peggy.

Mrs. Thomas Knapp and little son called last week on Mrs. C. W. Whitcomb.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whitehouse and children and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Robinson, Jr., and children were guests Saturday night of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Robinson, Sr., for a full supper.

There will be a Junior B.T.U. Social at King's Friday evening, February 14, at 7:30, for the small Juniors, ages 9 and 10 years. The leader is the writer. The parents are welcome, too.

There will also be a Senior B.T.U. Social Friday evening, February 14. This group is meeting at the church at 6 p. m. and will decide where to go from there.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith had as guests for dinner Sunday Rev. and Mrs. P. H. Kelly and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith and children and Miss Grace McCubbin.

Miss Lila Mae Wells was last guest of Miss Wynonia Tyler Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whitehouse had as dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitehouse, Miss June Gallahue, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Owen and the Lawson and Willis children.

'COL. BLACK'S STAIRWAY
This winding staircase in the Black mansion at Ellsworth, Maine, was built in 1802. Col. J. B. Black, whose father-in-law was aide-de-camp to General Washington, erected his elegant house in a tiny frontier settlement as a token of his confidence in the future of America. Just as courageous are the designs being approved by our city and townsmen for post-war expansion and improvement. But first the war must be won on all fronts. Continued investment in War Bonds speeds the day of victory and stores up savings for post-war security and expansion. U. S. Treasury Department

RED CROSS HOME NURSING

HOW HANDY ARE YOUR HANDS?

WHEN YOUR SICK CHILD is tired of lying on her back do you host her upright, dump a couple of pillows behind her back, and let her slouch in an uncomfortable position? Or do you skillfully make a sturdy backrest from a cardboard box and place the pillows against it so that she will be firmly supported to maintain good sitting posture?

DOCTORS ARE SAYING, "One person in every household should know home nursing." Most Red Cross chapters are offering free courses in home nursing taught by professional nurses. You learn how to improvise hospital equipment, give bed baths, prepare soft and liquid diets. The free courses offered by the Red Cross in home nursing will teach you to be a capable home assistant to your doctor. He'll appreciate your competence, and you'll earn grateful thanks from your family.

If there is no home nursing course offered at present in your community, ask your Red Cross chapter how you may help organize one.

his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Parrish, and attended morning service at the Methodist Church. Other callers during the week were Rev. J. L. Coomer, Mrs. Geneva Dugan, Mr. McArthur and Tom Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Moore were supper guests Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. Josh Allen.

Local Government Act

To End Stream Pollution

Extended programs to curb the 5.75 billion gallons of untreated sewage dumped every day into the nation's waterways are being launched on the interstate, state and local level according to the American Public Works Association.

Stream pollution laws were strengthened recently in Mississippi, while in Texas pollution of public waters has been made a penal offense. Local pollution surveys are being made in Texas by the state health department to determine changes and improvements needed in city and industrial waste disposal facilities.

In Oregon, 64 cities now have definite plans for new sewage disposal plants and sewer systems. Bond issues for this purpose totaling $14,000,000 have been voted in 19 Oregon cities, while 33 cities have accumulated sinking funds for sewage disposal totaling $2,250,114.

The Pennsylvania anti-pollution program is centered on industrial as well as other urban wastes. The state health department has ordered 508 cities and institutions and 352 industries to prepare plans for sewage and waste treatment. Mine operators and manufacturers are being required to treat all waste discharges. In California, sewage disposal construction has highest priority under 90 million dollar public works construction legislation approved in 1946. Massachusetts and Minnesota strengthened their anti-pollution laws last year. 91 cities in latter state have taken action in 1946 to provide for new sewage facilities.

It's Map, Not Material,
That Makes Blanket Warm

Many of us still believe in the old idea that if we get enough heavy blankets over us we will "sleep warm" in the coldest weather. However, textile specialists' tests have shown that warmth does not depend as much on the weight of the blanket as it does on the nap of the material.

Napped fabrics have the ability to form a barrier against heat loss that does not flow readily. These materials are warm. A heavy material, however, is not a good nap would not be as warm as a lighter napped material because it would let the body heat escape more quickly.

Tests also have revealed that the warmth of a new blanket depends more on the type of nap than on the fiber content. A new blanket that was part wool and part rayon was as warm as one that was 100 percent wool. However, tests made after the blankets had been laundered or used showed quite different results. Wool fiber will spring back to its original position in the nap after being laundered or used. Other fibers do not. This explains why all-wool blankets or fabrics will keep their warmth qualities and part-wool ones will not.

Balcony in Asia
The French Indo-China dependency has been called France's "balcony in Asia." Across the South China sea from the Philippines and Borneo, it has an area greater than that of Texas. Contrasts mark its physical appearance, from wild jungle and lonely mountain regions to the thickly settled, carefully cultivated lowlands. A crossroads of the East, it holds nearly 25,000,000 people, linked by blood strains and cultures with their neighbors in both India and China. To this country of bamboo huts and gilded temples, spiraling pagodas, still classical architecture, modern buildings, roads, schools and hospitals. In larger cities, such as Hanoi, the capital, homes, outdoor cafes, and dress styles followed Paris ways as closely as time and conditions would permit.

IF THIS BE TREASON—MAKE THE MOST OF IT. — Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (Dem., Wash.), peddled apples from his home state in the senate restaurant. First to sample the famous king-dies from Washington was Sen. Harry Flood Byrd (Dem., Va.), right, who owns and operates one of the largest apple orchards in the state of Virginia. Virginia apples are not unknown around Capitol Hill, as Senator Byrd has provided his quality fruit to senators.

Mystery of the Rocking Chair

Mr. Hoskins has a favorite rocking chair that's worn and shabby, with a noisy creak. Pa Hoskins has listened to that squeak for thirty years . . . and he decided to do something about it. So he bought a new rocker, and hid the other in the barn.

Ma allowed as how grateful she was . . . but when Pa missed her one afternoon, he heard a familiar sound that led him to the barn. There was Ma rocking happily in her old chair—squeak . . . squeak . . . as entitled to her small pleasures as I am."

From where I sit, that's one of the reasons the Hoskins are the happiest, oldest-married, peace-loving folks in our town.

MAPLE GROVE
The regular monthly meeting of the Maple Grove 4-H Club was called to order by the President, Emily Stutenberger, on Monday, February 3, at Melbourne Heights School. The meeting opened by everyone participating in the 4-H pledge and the pledge to the American flag.

A finance committee was appointed to raise the bank money in which our club can make money. Project captains were elected for this year. Captains were elected for farm, clothing, foods and canning projects. Final preparations were made for the Valentine Party.

Mr. Brown gave out the record books for the boys' projects. He also took out the pigs that the Kiwanis Club will give to boys interested in a pig project if they meet certain qualifications.

To begin our recreational program, we sang two songs. After this we played a game called button, button. After the game everyone ate popcorn and drank punch which was prepared by our refreshment committee. The meeting was then adjourned.—William Stutenberger, reporter.

Cite Officials in Use

Of Glass Cooking Utensils

The first cooking utensils made of glass were designed for use only, but within the last few years glass utensils able to withstand greater heat shock than needed for ordinary use have been made for surface cooking. Care should be taken, however, not to expose glass utensils to sudden changes of temperature, such as adding cold liquids to foods while they are cooking, or placing hot dishes directly on a cold surface.

There are several advantages afforded by glass utensils. They are easy to keep clean; glass conducts heat evenly, producing uniform browning; foods can be served in the same dish in which they were cooked, thereby saving in dishwashing time.

All top-of-the-stove cooking utensils should have a grid placed under them when used on the new fast-heating electric stoves, those made since 1940, home specialists advise. Owners should not use top-of-the-stove ware. Grids may be obtained from the manufacturer of the glassware (watch for the postcard attached to the label of the product).

British Enlarge African

Experiment in Government
Establishment of a Subnational Federation that includes 30 chiefdoms of Tanganyika's Wambara tribes enlarges an African experiment in local self-government. These tribes occupy an area as large as Switzerland, south of Lake Victoria in Tanganyika, says the National Geographic society. Tanganyika has been under British mandate.

Smaller but growing federation began some years ago, composed of independent chiefs. Each retained authority in his own chiefdom, under an elected chairman, they combined to form a joint treasury and a court of appeals which has jurisdiction over all lands and public.

Judges sat on a platform in carved chairs. Their robes, like those of royal blue and purple, were heavily embroidered in gold. They also wore many-colored turbans, sandals of lion skin, and chiefs' insignia of gold armbands and bracelets. From their treasury the federation supported a school where the sons of chiefs and headmen spent four years, living in villages. Here democratic principles were practiced by the students who were elected by the students whose court also enforced school discipline.

Clogged Drain

When your sink drain becomes clogged by grease in the pipes, it's a pretty good bet that your dishes and pans are not being carefully scraped before washing, and also that fats are being wasted. Every good housekeeper knows that grease should never be poured into a sink or drain. Some forget, however, to scrape every bit of fat from frying pans, platters and plates before washing dishes. Some of the fat left over from cooking can be saved and used again for cooking. Use the advice of chemists and household equipment specialists of the department of agriculture, who recommend keeping your sink drain in good condition by pouring boiling water down it every few months. This softens and carries away clogged grease. Whenever your drain begins to clog, use boiling water at once, and pump out the pipe with a plumber's friend.

Education Inadequate

American education is so inadequately financed that one of every two youths of high intelligence prematurely drops from school before reaching college. 2,000,000 juveniles aged 8 to 18 do not attend school, and 4,000,000 children—nearly one of every four—have teachers whose salaries are less than $1.00 a year.

To remedy these educational ills the annual national expenditure for education would have to be increased, largely through state and local taxes.

Rare Orchid

A rare orchid, the albino variety of Lycaetis skinneri also known as "white man's" (Spanish for "white man"), was put in bloom in the conservatory of the department of botany of Northwestern University for the first time since being brought to the United States nine months ago by Dr. Margery C. Carlson. The national flower of Guatemala, the albino orchid is said to be the rarest of all orchids. Dr. Carlson acquired the orchid from an Indian in San Salvador who by accident. The Indian had it wrapped in a cloth, and in passing the botanist recognized the wide leaves as typical of certain class of orchids. Dr. Carlson induced him to let her have the plant, and she then packed it in paper in a straw basket along with other rare botanical specimens.

Need Food Supplement

A supplement of foods rich in vitamin C is needed by many persons who eat away from home most of the time, according to nutrition counsellors. Such a diet is lacking in those who eat most of their meals in restaurants, hotels, dormitories, army messes and other places where cooking is done in large quantities cannot always rely on the vegetables in their plates for their vitamin C. Persons who eat out a great deal, can provide the vitamin C by using larger servings of citrus fruits and their juices, or by using these foods at least once a day. To provide these vitamins in abundance, vegetables must be used fresh or cooked and served with exposure to air, water and heat as possible.
